

FEDERAL CIVIL DEFENSE ADMINISTRATION
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

January 3, 1952

Tuesday

8 Jan

330 PM

MEMORANDUM TO: Mr. Loftus E. Becker
Central Intelligence Agency

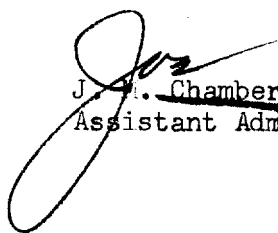

SUBJECT: Interview with General Smith

The following is suggested as an outline for discussion with General Smith.

1. The development of a properly phased and soundly developed program for civil defense must follow and be based on the same intelligence assumptions which the Department of Defense and other principal agencies of the Government are using. This is particularly important to our present planning. We are not sure that we have the full picture in this field, and I would like to explore this with the General and get his opinion as to how we should best proceed in the light of the world situation as he sees it at the moment.
2. I would like to discuss with the General the development of the war gaming currently being carried on and determine his understanding as to how Civil Defense is to participate. As you know, so far we have no knowledge of the details of the problem. I believe that we should be doing a lot of work now in anticipation of the time when certain aspects of the problem will be dumped in our lap.

On file OSD release instructions
apply.

J. A. Chambers
Assistant Administrator

FEMA review(s) completed.

January 3, 1952

MEMORANDUM TO: Mr. Loftus E. Becker
Central Intelligence Agency

SUBJECT: Interview with General Smith

The following is suggested as an outline for discussion with General Smith.

1. The development of a properly phased and soundly developed program for civil defense must follow and be based on the same intelligence assumptions which the Department of Defense and other principal agencies of the Government are using. This is particularly important to our present planning. We are not sure that we have the full picture in this field, and I would like to explore this with the General and get his opinion as to how we should best proceed in the light of the world situation as he sees it at the moment.
2. I would like to discuss with the General the development of the war gaming currently being carried on and determine his understanding as to how Civil Defense is to participate. As you know, so far we have no knowledge of the details of the problem. I believe that we should be doing a lot of work now in anticipation of the time when certain aspects of the problem will be dumped in our lap.

J. M. Chambers
Assistant Administrator